

CoFe Tables Talk

Feminist Leadership for Climate Justice

CoFeTables

An initiative that promotes rethinking traditional climate change responses and provides a safe space - especially for women - to share ideas and incubate projects in preparation for COP28.

- 1 Give the microphone to the voiceless
- 2 Convene dialogue among feminist leaders
- 3 Facilitate networks and partnerships
- 4 Connect the missing link with decision-makers
- 5 Bring Feminist Leadership to climate justice narrative

WE ARE

Feminist leaders from climate change affected countries and from displacement settings who are passionate and committed to climate justice for all

THE ISSUE

COPs have traditionally been the platform for Governments, International Institutions and Organisations, often excluding of women and grassroots organisation such as ourselves

OUR MISSION

Provide spaces for the missing stakeholders on the climate change tables and high-level dialogs & Include frontline actors in decision-making

OUR GOALS

Advancing SDG 13 Goal 13: We women Taking urgent action to combat climate change and its impacts & Providing critical information for COP28

The Cofe Tables Talk is a project led by New Women Connectors, with the support of SEEK Feminist Research Network and in collaboration with Global Refugee Network, Refugee Led Network, Oxfam, IMatter, RW Welfare Society, Debbie Kauna Foundation, She Changes Climate, European Coalition for Migrants and Refugees, Asociacion Kudwa and Initiatives of Change UK.
